Description

Lip scrub the product you didn't know you needed until you tried it. For lips that suffer from severe dehydration, it's hard to find a balm or treatment that will actually rid you of the dry, cracked skin that can develop. Chapped lips is never a good look and sometimes adding balm or lipsticks on top actually ends up highlighting the flaky bits, rather than removing them. Enter Buffer lip scrub: with sugar and strawberry extract to slough away bits of dead, dry skin and rid you of those dreaded flakes. Sweet almond oil will help restore moisture, priming lips for your balms and ensuring your lippie stays on longer. Finally, a touch of cinnamon works to perk up pouts, enhancing lips to their fullest. Housed in a biodegradable tube made of sugarcane.
